

Terpsichori Greek Dance Circle

Terpsichori Greek Dance Circle proudly presents their 17th
dance seminar:

Dances of Northern Thrace & Black Sea

with Apostolis Skrekas and accordion player Dimitris Altantsidis

on 3-4th Octobre 2015 in Brussels

TEACHER:

Born in 1966, Apostolis is specialized in the dances of Northern Thrace, or Anatoliki Romylia as it is called with its other name.

He holds a degree specialized in traditional Greek dances and is currently teaching dances in the Hellenic Club of Women in Katerini, in the dance group Chorostates and the Traditional Dance Workshop For Teachers in Thessalonike. He was also Aristotle University of Thessalonike's Sports Academy for 5 years.

Due to his vibrant personality and exceptional didactic skills, Apostolis has been invited to teach at numerous dance seminars in Greece and abroad (in Cyprus, Germany and France among others).

CURRICULUM:

The program is set both for beginners and advanced.

In this seminar we will learn the known and less known dances of Anatoliki Romyliia and we'll learn the differences between the styles of Monastiri and Kavakli. We will also work on figures of several dances, including the Tsestos.

And we will complete our program with the dynamic dances of the Black Sea coast, Bana. Accordionist Dimitris Altantsidis will accompany us during the seminar.
